PERSPECTIVE

Feliz Ano Novo Team Lajes!

By Col. Robert "Dirt" Winston
65th Air Base Wing commander

The holiday season has passed and I want to wish you all the best for this New Year.

The New Year brings many different things. It is the opportunity to look back, reflect and celebrate all that you have accomplished and it is the opportunity to look forward and plan for what's to come.

2006 was marked with many successes and our team has many achievements to be proud of.

As a team, Lajes reached many new heights in 2006. To name a few, we celebrated 60 years of partnership between Portugal and the United States here at Lajes Field; construction of the new fitness center was completed; new base housing has been completed while other base housing has started renovations. We successfully combined our schools to become the Lajes American School which continues to provide world-class education for our children.

Your achievements have received recognition throughout USAFE. Together you earned $50,000 when USAFE recognized your fitness excellence. Our team earned an "Outstanding" rating on the Air Traffic Systems Evaluation Program inspection and achieved an "Excellent" on the Logistic Standardization Evaluation Team Inspection.

Your achievements as individuals are no less impressive. One of the Air Force's 12 Outstanding Airmen walks among us and one of Lajes'

"... 2007 offers many more chances for Team Lajes to shine."

Colonel Winston

own was recognized in her profession when she received an award for Excellence in Clinical Practice.

We have American and Portuguese civilian team members who have won USAFE level recognition. The promotions, awards and degrees you have earned in the past year are testaments to the personal strength in each of you that makes Team Lajes great.

I am proudest of the fact that and we provided world-class support to more than 6,500 aircraft going to and from the Fight.

With the New Year's arrival, 2007 offers many more chances for Team Lajes to shine. The biggest opportunity comes in the preparation for and execution of Lajes' first Operational Readiness Inspection.

The next few months will be trying. We have made some serious headway toward meeting the goals we set for our performance in March, but we have a long way to go. What we do here is vital to getting "metal on target" in this war; always keep this in focus. I know that, as in the past, we will pull together and get the job done.

Your hard work and dedication to the mission are evident as we continue to put "Lajes in the Fight."

Feliz Ano Novo Equipa das Lajes!

Pelo Coronel Robert "Dirt" Winston
Comandante do 65th Air Base Wing

A quadra festiva já passou e quero desejar-vos tudo de bom para este Ano Novo. O Ano Novo traz muitas coisas diferentes. É a oportunidade de olhar para trás, reflectir e festejar tudo o que realizámos e é a oportunidade para olhar em frente e planear o que está para vir.

O ano de 2006 ficou marcado por muitos sucessos e a nossa equipa tem muitos feitos com que se orgulhar.

Como uma equipa, a Base das Lajes atingiu novos pontos altos em 2006. Só para nomear alguns, celebrámos 60 anos de parceria entre Portugal e os Estados Unidos aqui nas Lajes; completou-se a construção de um novo ginásio, foi também concluída a construção de novas residências na base enquanto outras começaram a serem renovadas. Juntámos com êxito as nossas escolas formando a Escola Americana das Lajes, a qual continua a proporcionar ensino de qualidade às nossas crianças.

Os vossos feitos foram reconhecidos por todo o Comando do USAFE. Juntos ganharam 50,000 dólares quando o USAFE reconheceu a excelência da vossa condição física. A nossa equipa ganhou uma classificação de "Outstanding" na inspecção do Programa de Avaliação dos Sistemas de Tráfego Aéreo e "Excelente" na inspecção da Equipa de Avaliação da Uniformização Logística.

Os vossos feitos individuais não são menos impressionantes. Um dos 12 melhores militares da Força Aérea passeia-se entre nós e uma das nossas militares foi reconhecida na sua profissão quando recebeu um prémio pela excelência no exercício da actividade clínica. Temos civis americanos e portugueses membros da equipa que foram reconhecidos ao nível do USAFE. As promoções, prémios e graus académicos que conseguiram no ano passado são testemunho do vigor pessoal que existe em cada um de vós o que faz a Equipa das Lajes notável.

Estou muito orgulhoso pelo facto de proporcionarmos apoio de qualidade a mais de 6,500 aeronaves a caminho ou no regresso da batalha.

Com a chegada do Ano Novo, 2007 oferece muitas mais oportunidades à Equipa das Lajes para se distinguir. A maior oportunidade chega com a preparação e execução da primeira Inspeção de Prontidão Operacional do nosso destacamento nas Lajes.

Os próximos meses serão de ensaio. Fizemos alguns avanços significativos no sentido de ir ao encontro dos objectivos que estabelecemos para o nosso desempenho em Março, mas temos ainda muito a fazer. O que fazemos aqui é vital para que "as bombas atinjam o alvo" nesta guerra; mantenham isto sempre em mente.

Eu sei que, como no passado, trabalharemos em conjunto e atingiremos os nossos objectivos. O vosso trabalho árduo e dedicação à missão são evidentes enquanto continuamos a colocar as "Lajes na Luta."

65th MDG parking

The primary parking areas for patients receiving care at the 65th Medical Group include the front and back of the clinic in Bldg. T-416 and the parking area across from Arts and Craft Center.

If these spaces are filled, additional parking options include the lot across from the Community Center and between the picnic area and Bldg. T-310, which is located across from the clinic campus.

For more information or if you have suggestions or comments, call Lt. Col. Phil Rutledge or Francisco Toste at 535-6335.

65th ABW leadership launches Commander's Access Channel

By Capt. Shilo Weir
65th Air Base Wing Public Affairs

The Lajes Field Community Access Channel officially launched Dec. 31 when the 65th Air Base Wing commander cut the ribbon at the Community Center during the Family New Year's Party.

The new channel makes news and information about Lajes' events and facilities available for all customers on the base cable system.

"This will be a great way to not only provide information to our people," said Lt. Col. John Oliver, 65th Services Squadron commander, "but it will entertain them as well."

As part of the access channel programming, the staff at 65th SVS Marketing has added video of events that take place around the base.

"We have been able to put events on the air that happened throughout the past year," said Tommy Brooks, 65th SVS Marketing director. "This new channel is an opportunity to get a variety of messages out to the audience in a new way."

"We invite all base agencies to take part in providing content," added Colonel Oliver. "That is the only way we can truly make this a tool for the community."

Holiday greetings from the homefront

You're doing a great job in the service of our country! Keep up the good work and best of luck to you all!

I'm an old World War vet who well remembers what it's like to be far from home, especially around the Holidays.

To you and the members of your unit,

MERRY CHRISTMAS

All the best for the Holidays and the New Year.

Afghan security forces becoming competent, capable, general says

By Army Sgt. Sara Wood
American Forces Press Service

WASHINGTON – The continued support of the U.S. and international community in building a strong Afghan army and police force is essential as that country moves forward with social and economic progress, the U.S. general in charge of training Afghan forces said Tuesday.

“Our ultimate goal here is to assist the nation by building Afghan capacity and capability to secure Afghanistan’s territory and provide an Afghan shield for the nation’s continued development,” said Army Maj. Gen. Robert Durbin, commander of Combined Security Transition Command Afghanistan. Durbin spoke in a news conference via satellite from Afghanistan.

“This transition process will take time, but with steadfast U.S. and international support, it will happen,” he said.

The Afghan National Army and Afghan National Police continue to make progress and demonstrate self-reliance in planning, preparing and executing security operations, General Durbin said. The Afghan National Army is 36,000 strong and on its way to an end-strength of 70,000, he said. The police force is at 50,000 and will grow to 82,000. The country will reach

Maj. Gen. Robert Kurbin
Commander, Combined Security
Transition Command Afghanistan

those manpower goals by the end of 2008, he said.

As the Afghan National Army conducts successful operations each day, its soldiers gain confidence and competence, General Durbin said. Improved living conditions in the field and in garrison, combined with pay reform and leadership improvements, have resulted in more recruits entering the security forces and lower rates of unauthorized absences, he said.

General Durbin lauded the partnership between the U.S. and Afghan governments in developing security forces.

“We are prevailing against the effects of a prolonged war, tribalism, poverty, illiteracy and the lack of infrastructure,” he said. “We’re producing an Afghan national security force that is competent and capable of defeating a determined insurgency, while setting the stage for social and economic progress.”

Lajes Schools

Parent survey: Parent opinions are paramount when it comes to improving the quality of education being provided to the children at Lajes American School. If you did not complete the on-line survey during the Parent Teacher conference, visit <http://www.dodea.edu>, click on "Customer Satisfaction Survey"; select Mediterranean District followed by Lajes ES/HS School. Parents are asked to complete a separate survey for each enrolled child and are welcome to stop by the school and use one of the computers to complete the survey if they do have access to a computer.

School bus monitors: Lajes is looking for volunteer school bus monitors. If interested or for more details, call Yolanda Castro, school liaison officer, at yolanda.castro@lajes.af.mil or call her at 535-1314.

Miscellaneous

AFE survey: Armed Forces Entertainment is launching a brand awareness campaign, which is designed to encourage more entertainers to perform on military installations overseas and at deployed locations. Before this new initiative begins, AFE needs to see how they are meeting the needs of Lajes before proceeding in building more programs. Visit <http://www.core.research.biz/troop> to complete the survey.

Toll free calls: To make a call to 1-800, 888, 866, 877 toll-free prefixes, Team Lajes can call DSN 809-40FFDSN (809-463-3376). Callers do not have to dial the traditional 94 prefix for to access this DSN number. After dialing, callers will hear a dial tone. They can dial the toll-free number as soon as they hear the dial tone. This procedure reduces the workload of base operators, reduces the call holding time incurred, and also improve services to all DSN users.

At the movies

Today

7 p.m. – Deck the Halls starring Danny DeVito and Matthew Broderick. Steve, a suburban dad and Christmas enthusiast, leads a well-ordered, well-planned, and well-organized life. His new neighbor, Buddy, is Steve's opposite: a big personality with big dreams, which have yet to materialize. But Buddy's latest dream – to create the biggest holiday light display in the world, visible from outer space – is turning Steve's disciplined world into a chaotic nightmare. Rated PG for crude/suggestive humor and language (95 minutes).

10 p.m. – Casino Royale starring Daniel Craig and Judi Dench. James Bond's first 007 mission takes him to Madagascar, where he is to spy on a terrorist Mollaka. Not everything goes as planned and Bond decides to investigate, independently of the MI6 agency, in order to track down the rest of the terrorist cell. Rated PG-13 for violent action, torture, sexual content, nudity (144 minutes).

Saturday

7 p.m. – Casino Royale

10 p.m. – Déjà vu starring Denzel Washington and Val Kilmer. Everyone has experienced the unsettling mystery of déjà vu – that flash of memory when you meet someone new you feel you've known all your life or recognize a place even though you've never been there before. But what if the feelings were actually warnings sent from the past or clues to the future? Rated PG-13 for intense sequences of violence/terror, disturbing images, sensuality (128 minutes).

Sunday

2 p.m. – Deck the Halls
7 p.m. – Casino Royale

Thursday

7 p.m. – Déjà vu

SAFETY ADVISORY: Be Wary of Strangers

There has been a recent increase in incidents involving strangers approaching American residences both on and off base. Be careful not to open your door to just anyone as we recently had an incident. Also, advise your dependents never to open the door for strangers especially when home alone.

OFF BASE ROBBERY/WITH WEAPON:

DATE: Dec. 24, 2006

LOCATION: Porto Martins

SUMMARY: A first sergeant telephoned the Security Defense Control Center to report that a member from his unit was robbed at knife point at the member's residence in Porto Martins. The member provided a sworn statement that at approximately 2 p.m. an unknown male knocked on her front door asking for a bottle of water and asked if she was alone in the house. She opened the door because she recognized the individual from the previous week when he showed up at her residence asking for donations for a local church. The member closed the front door and went to go get a bottle of water while the individual stayed outside. She returned with the water and after he drank enough, he wanted to give it back to her. The member took the water bottle from him and attempted to shut door but the individual forced the door open and pulled out a knife. The individual demanded money. The member told him that she didn't have any but he insisted she check her wallet anyways. The unidentified male took more than 40 Euros from the member and then departed. The member provided the police with a physical description of the individual. There was no damage to the residence and no injuries.

Improve oral health by keeping Xylitol in your diet

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, cavities are the most common chronic childhood disease in America, four times more so than asthma.

The cause of tooth decay depends heavily on the combination of acid-producing bacteria and fermentable carbohydrates, such as sugar or glucose, present in the mouth.

This basically means eating any foods with sugar not followed by brushing your teeth can lead to decay.

While much of your oral health depends on habits such as diet, hygiene and smoking, products do exist to assist in preventing tooth decay both in children and adults.

An examination performed by one of Lajes' dentists can help determine exactly what you need to avoid cavities. This definitely applies to children, as well.

The 65th Dental Flight has appointment availability for all active duty and their family members.

Placement of dental sealants has been statistically shown to have a tremendous impact on preventing tooth decay.

Based on the results of an exam, a dentist can find out whether you or your child can benefit from sealants. Both in-office fluoride applications and fluoridated waters, such as the Culligan water available on base, offer added protection from tooth decay.

A newer idea in preventing decay is through habitual chewing of various gums containing the sugar substitute, Xylitol.

Xylitol is an organic sugar from the Birch tree. Naturally, it is found in many fruits and has been used as a sugar substitute in Finland, considered its homeland.

It's also been commonly used in many parts of Europe over the past few decades.

When chewed regularly in gum form or ingested through various hard candies or mints, Xylitol has been shown as 'tooth-friendly' in its ability to distract bacteria from beginning the process of decay.

Xylitol, verified through numerous studies conducted worldwide, may have perpetuated effects lasting sometimes years after habitual gum-chewing of 2-3 times a day has ended. A simple search on the web can give you endless sources to help make your decision to include Xylitol in your diet.

The next time you go to buy a package of gum, check for Xylitol in the ingredients.

"One only needs about 6-10 grams of Xylitol in their diet each day to benefit the oral environment," said Capt. (Dr.) Jerry Walker, dentist, 65th Medical Operations Squadron.

Not only has Xylitol been found to decrease decay, it has been shown to have preventive measures for hyperglycemia, osteoporosis, and ear infections as well. (Article courtesy of the 65th Dental Flight)

MLK sports celebration

The African-American Heritage Committee holds a Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday Sports Celebration Monday beginning in the Lajes American High School Gymnasium.

A dribble, pass and shoot competition is from 10 to 11 a.m.; 3-point shooting contest is from 11 a.m. to noon; top-gunner (scoring challenge) is from noon to 1 p.m.; and a basketball all-star game is at 1 p.m.

All events are timed events and the winner of each event will receive a prize. Age groups are 5-6 years, 7-9 years, 10-12 years and high school/adult.

Those who want to participate should show up five minutes before the event begins.

For more details, call Master Sgt. Lisa Bryant at 535-6197, Master Sgt. Richard Barnett at 535-3585 or Calvin Dixon at 535-1290.

Survival Challenge

The Chace Fitness Center is holding a survival challenge to encourage all of Team Lajes to stay focused on fitness following the holiday season.

Those who sign up in FitLinX between Jan. 1 and March 31 and burn 17,500 calories (equivalent to five pounds of fat) will win a fitness T-shirt.

People also registered in FitLinX are also welcome to participate. For sign up or registration information, visit the fitness center or call Calvin Dixon at 535-1290.

Free pool tournament

A race-to-five, nine-ball pool tournament in a double elimination format is set for 6 p.m. Thursday in the Community Activity Center. The first place finisher will receive a prize from the 65th Services Squadron.

For more information, call Tech. Sgt. Adam Caldwell at 535-3301.

TORC Superbowl Blowout

Event starts at 9 p.m. Feb. 4 in the Top of the Rock Club's Enlisted Lounge. The buffet will last through halftime with the Bits and Bites menu being served until the game is finished.

There will be prizes throughout the game with the AFN Commercial Contest taking place at half-time. The cost is $5 for members and $15 for non-members.

For more details, call Kent Jenkins at 535-6156.

Tumbling, gymnastics

The Lajes Youth Center will hold tumbling and gymnastics lessons in the coming months.

Classes will be from 5 to 6 p.m.

Wednesdays for ages 3-5; the cost is $25 per month. Classes will be from 5 to 6 p.m. for ages 6-12 and from 6 to 7 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays; the cost is $35 per month. Registration kicks off Jan. 23. For more information, call 535-3273.

Judo lessons

The Lajes Youth Center will hold judo lessons in the coming months. Classes will be from 5 to 6 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays for ages 4-18 and from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays for adults; the cost is $35 per month.

Registration kicks off Jan. 23. For more information, call 535-3273.

Basketball championships

The 2007 U.S. Air Forces in Europe Large Units Basketball Championships is scheduled for March 4-10 at RAF Lakenheath, United Kingdom.

Both men's and women's teams will play round-robin in their respective pool.

Valid U.S. military, civilian and dependent ID cardholders are authorized to participate; however, U.S. active duty personnel have priority above all others. Team members must be 18 years of age or older and out of high school.

For more information, call Tony Baptista at 535-1290.
